

Name : Akwasi Oppong Fosu

Government Administration : J.D. Mahama (1st Admin)

Designation: Minister of Local Government

Duration : 2015-6 January, 2017

Akwasi Oppong Fosu born on February 1, 1958, hails from Afransiei, a town in the Western Region of Ghana.

He entered the University of London and obtained his master's degree in Public Policy and Management in 2002.

He is a Ghanaian Politician and has been the Member of Parliament for the Amenfi East Constituency since 7 January 2013 on the ticket of the National Democratic Congress.

He was appointed Minister for Local Government and Rural Development by President John Dramani Mahama in March 2013, and succeeded by Julius Debrah in that title in May 2014.

Akwasi Oppong Fosu is a Christian (Word Miracle Church International) and married with four children.